WELCOME LETTER TO ATTENDEES OF THE 7th ANNUAL RCA INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION

Dear Friends:

I welcome you to your convention. Yes - this convention is for you, your coupleship and family. It is a chance to renew old friendships and make new ones. It is a chance to focus on issues and look for solutions, to pickup tools and make discoveries. It is a chance to have fun and celebrate your coupleship. It is a chance to help others and give the gift of renewal to yourself and others. I truly hope that each of you has a good time and has the chance to take something home to your group, friends, families and for yourselves. The effort you have made to go to any length to find recovery is worth the trip, whether you live just over the hill from San Jose or across the continent.

RCA is approaching it's tenth anniversary, a milestone for this fellowship and an important crossroads. As Uncle Sam would say, We Need You!!! You are RCA and all of you have asked that RCA grow and become stronger. You must ask yourself: What can I do, even in a small way to make this happen? You as a couple must carry the message of RCA to others as requested by step 12. It is critical to the continued health of the fellowship for every person, every couple to recommit and carry the message of RCA back with you from this convention. Because this is best way to accomplish the goal we as a fellowship have set for ourselves. Think of what you as an individual, as a couple or as a group can do and try to do IT and just a little more. The benefit to your coupleship of service and help to others is part of the steps. The results will surprise you and bring you a wealth of recovery beyond your wildest dreams.

Sincerely,

Mark M.
