

Meeting Diversity

RCA is open to all committed adult couples seeking to create or restore a caring, committed, and intimate monogamous relationship regardless of age, sexual orientation, gender identification, religious background, culture, race, class, national origin, physical or mental challenge, or political affiliation. The RCA fellowship actively supports valuing differences both within a coupleship and among couples of diverse backgrounds. In our coupleships and in our groups, we are committed to valuing our differences and surmounting the barriers to serenity. Diversity is important to our coupleships and to the RCA fellowship because each of us, being different, makes a richer contribution to the whole. Each individual meeting is autonomous except in matters affecting other groups and RCA as a whole. We encourage you to check the directory on our website, www.recovering-couples.org, and call or email the Group Contact Couple (GCC) listed before attending a new meeting.

Recovering Couples Anonymous: A Twelve-Step Program for Couples (4th edition 2011, at p. 43).

© 1991, 2011 by the World Service Organization for Recovering Couples Anonymous, Inc. All rights reserved.